Water Audits

Water utilities experience at least two types of non-revenue water losses; losses due to meter inaccuracies, billing system errors or unauthorized usage such as theft; and losses from leaks in the distribution system. Losses distort actual consumption data; inflate your overhead; and cost you revenue.

A comprehensive Water Audit by Advanced Leak Analysis and Solutions, Inc. is the first step in discovering and solving your leakage, non-revenue water, and other water loss issues. It's the best way to assess the actual impact that losses put on your water utility operations. Only after losses are known can appropriate efforts be made to minimize your losses, lower your costs and restore your system's integrity.
